For Thanksgiving Day

You will be looking for something just a little bit different—Don't forget that this is a little bit different grocery store—a special occasion and a day in an out grocery shop.

Also, don't forget, that you can't have an eatable demand, but we are ready to meet it. Prepared in a way not quite the ordinary.

We are ready for Thanksgiving like this—

Raisens, Currants, Nuts, Citron, Dates, Figs, Cherries, and Spices of all kinds for Black Cake. Celery, Oysters and Cranberries.

Jacob Schulz Co., the florists of Louisville, Ky., whom Wm. and L. N. Miller are agent did a nice thing when they sent the Womans Club a large bunch of white chrysanthemums last Saturday which were highly appreciated.

Honaker florist of Lexington, thru his agent, Mr. John McRoberts, sent the woman's club a large box of flowers which arrived to late to use for the luncheon. The club members were grateful just the same.

Quarterly meeting services at the Methodist church here in this city, Sunday morning and night. Rev. W. D. Welbourn will preach at 11 A. M., and Rev. C. H. Greer, presiding Elder of the Danville Dist. in the evening at 7 P. M. Come and enjoy both services. You are welcome. S. H. Politt.

More than 80 counties in Kentucky are actually at work building roads under state supervision and with state aid. Twenty other counties have asked for and been granted such aid and are now preparing to begin work. The state-wide road building movement is on in earnest, and it is here to stay.

WANTED 5000 DOZEN EGGS

Fresh eggs 26c, extra candled 27c. H. B. Northcott.

GOOD SHOWER.

The rain that fell last Monday was much needed in this county, for the late sown wheat. Tobacco has come in "case" and much of it is being bulked preparatory to stripping.

FINE HEREFORDS.

Mr. R. E. Henry has sold in the past week two white face Hereford calves to Cecil Beatty, of Marcellus, for $100. These calves were only five months old and were models of this breed. Mr. Henry also sold a pair of mules to W. R. Cook, for $285.

CATTLE DYING.

Mr. J. I. Hamilton has lost in the past week several young cattle with a disease thought to have been "black scours" and which has proven fatal to most of those contracting it. A specialist from the Lexington Experimental station has been called to ascertain the cause and what remedy shall be used to eradicate it.

THANKSGIVING

President Wilson, in a proclamation designating Thursday, Nov. 25, as Thanksgiving day, called attention to the fact that the United States has been at peace while most of Europe has been at war. "We have been able to assert our rights on mankind without breach of friendship with the great nations with whom we have had to deal," said the President.

FAIR GROUNDS TO BE SOLD.

As advertised in this issue of the Record, the beautiful grounds of the Danville Fair Association will be sold publicly next Monday in Danville. These are decidedly the prettiest grounds in Central Kentucky, and an ideal place for a country fair. It has been a losing investment to the stockholders, however and it will be sold for the high dollar Monday, November 15th.

BELIEVE IN ADVERTISING.

In this issue of the Record appears the advertisement of the Lancaster Tobacco Warehouse. This house is under the management of C. A. Speith & Co., the local buyers being "Billy" Speith and Jake Graw. This firm will also have a branch house at Paint Lick, having leased the large warehouse at that place and are well prepared to take care of the tobacco in that section of the county. When you get ready to sell, call them up.

UNUSUAL SEASON.

What do you know about pear trees blossoming in November. What do you know about crimson ramblers being in bloom now. What do you think of a lilac being in bloom now. All of these things we have seen. The explanation is that early cold and frost in October and warm weather afterward made the required season of those plants which respond to cold and then warm. The continued balmy weather made spring again for them and they are now giving pleasure with their beauty and fragrance.

HOW'S THIS

The rooster in the Danville Messenger grows extravagantly large, while Stanley's majority grows distressingly less.

A FINE ROAD.

Garrard Co. has one of the best roads in the state, in the one leading out of town to Stanford. This magnificent road bed stretches from City limits to county limits which is known as White Oak. It is a splendid macadamized road of which out county should be justly proud.

ARBOR DAY IN KENTUCKY.

Governor McCreary has proclaimed Friday, November 12th, Arbor Day in Kentucky, and calls upon all citizens to observe the day. Exercises will be held in the schools of the State. Encourage tree planting and tree preservation by observing Arbor day in Lancaster and Garrard Co.

TRAILMOBILE.

Mr. H. C. Bright, of Danville was in the city last Saturday exploiting the good qualities of the "Trailmobile", something new on wheels, and is designed to be hitched to an auto, with a carrying capacity of one thousand pounds. It attracted quite a little attention and looks to us like a "good thing".

PLEASANT CALLER.

This office has been honored with a pleasant call from our good friend, Col. George D. Burdette, who now represents The Germania Life Insurance Company, of New York, being its state agent for Kentucky. This company has a "New Family Protection Policy" that is quite attractive and Mr. Burdette would be pleased to acquaint some of his good friends with its good features.

BETTER TAKE WARNING.

The postal authorities at Washington, recognizing the ability of post-masters to make mistakes in getting letters in wrong boxes, have fixed a penalty of $200 on persons taking mail out of an office other than their own, and not returning it immediately. This law also includes newspapers. The excuse that it is the postmaster's fault cuts no ice. If you have been getting other people's mail you had better take warning or you may get your self into trouble.

PAINFULLY INJURED.

Members of the local chapter D. A. R. will regret to learn of the painful injuries sustained by the State Regent, who is well known among the Danville members. The following dispatch is from Paducah: Mrs. Eli G. Boone, State Regent elect of the D. A. R. was seriously injured and her husband, a prominent real estate and insurance man, perhaps fatally hurt when the Boone car which Mrs. Boone was driving, left the road in the county late Sunday and dashed into a rail fence. The car was practically demolished and Mr. Boone's back was badly injured. Mrs. Boone suffered numerous cuts and bruises.

EXPECTED DEATH

Harrodsburg Herald—The will of Homer DeBaun, who was recently killed by Sam Sims, Cornishville, was filed for probate last Monday and is a remarkable instrument. It was written by Mr. DeBaun, who evidently realized that he was liable to be killed at any time by Mr. Sims. It is a most pathetic case. After making disposition of his property, Mr. DeBaun adds the following:

"My life has been threatened by Sam Sims and I am as innocent of the charges he makes against me as an angel in heaven, and if he should kill me for the charges made by him it will be as false as the charges against my Saviour and in cold blood. I am not excited, but writing facts, and should his threats be carried out and I haven't time to arrange my business, this is my last will and testimony. "This April 28, 1915. "Attest—Bud Rainey, W. R. Penny."

WILD TURKEYS AND QUAIL.

The Kentucky game and fish commission has arranged for the importation of 15,000 quail from Mexico, if they can be got through under government inspection and possibly five hundred wild turkeys for the mountain preserves.

Charles E. Brewster has gone to Mexico for the Pennsylvania commission and his brother, William, has been instructed by J. Q. Ward, executive agent of the Kentucky commission, to look after the purchases for this state. Mr. Brewster is of the opinion that the so-called "quail disease", alleged to be prevalent in Mexico, is in reality "crust disease", and caused by unsanitary shipping conditions, something that he has taken pains to avoid this time. At any rate, he says no disease seems to have demoralized the quail in Mexico.

Wild turkeys are reported to be ridiculously cheap in Mexico, and if they are, the Kentucky mountains will be re-stocked providing a closed season may be maintained on them for a few years.

BUYING HEMP SEED.

Mr. Henry Cox has received and shipped in the past week a car load of hemp seed that he has purchased from local parties, at prices from $3.00 to $3.50 a bushel. The crop is unusually good and Mr. Cox expects to buy another load this week.

SOMETHING GOOD

War Movies Of German Battleships.

What constitutes probably the most remarkable set of motion pictures showing the gigantic operations of the German and Austrian armies, will be shown at the Roman's Opera house this Friday night. Mr. Romans has never disappointed an audience when he says it's going to be a good picture and he tells us he is banking his reputation on this one. These are actual photographs taken at the seat of war and showing its horrors in every detail. A good crowd will see this Friday night.

WOMENS FEDERATED

CLUBS CONVENTION.

The convention of the Womens Federated Clubs of this district was a success both from the standpoint of attendance and enthusiasm. The weather which was perfect also added greatly to the occasion.

The luncheon at the Kengarian was a feature of the day. Toasts and jests passed and repeated adding to the enjoyment of the noon-day meal.

Quite a number of out of town guests were present and altogether it was said to be the happiest day in the history of the local club. The entire days proceedings will be found in the Womans Club Club.

RAY.

In the shadows of the evening on November 4th, W. A. Ray, son of Mr. Hiram Ray of this county, sank quietly into that state called "Sleep in Jesus". He had been an invalid for the past ten months and bore his suffering with noble Christian fortitude. He was born on Nov. 1st 1877 and is survived by father, mother and little daughter, his wife and other daughter having died some years ago. Interment took place last Saturday in the Lancaster cemetery and was followed to its last resting place by one of the longest processions ever seen in the county.

Dear friends, these three loved ones have "crossed over the river to rest under the shade." Our prayer is that God will comfort you in this sad hour of distress, for soon he will call you to join them over there.

WALLACE.

Mrs. Nannie E. Wallace, formerly of this county, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. C. B. Bell, in Sanford, Florida, last Thursday night and was buried in Richmond Sunday.

Mrs. Wallace suffered a stroke of paralysis a year ago and since that time had been an invalid. She was the widow of Mr. Ollie Wallace who died seven years ago, both he and his wife lived in Garrard Co. a number of years, where they were honored citizens and their country home was known for its hospitality.

Mrs. Wallace moved south about five years ago in order to be with her children who were with her when the end came. She was known as an affable, kind hearted Christian woman, and many friends here in her old home county regret her death and sympathize with the children in the loss of a devoted mother.

Mrs. Wallace leaves five children who are Mrs. C. F. Bell, of Sanford, Fla., Mrs. C. G. Todd, Belton, S. C., Miss Annie C. Wallace, Macon, Ga., Shannon Wallace, Columbia, S. C. and Ollie Wallace, Wilmington, S. C. She also leaves one sister, Mrs. James Burnside of this county.

COLLINS

Mr. Crampton H. Collins died at his home near McCreary in this county on October 28th and after funeral services at the home conducted by Rev. E. C. Lacy, of Ewing, Ky., his remains were interred in the Lancaster cemetery on October 29th.

Mr. Collins' death resulted from injuries sustained in a fall from his tobacco barn several weeks previous to his death. Mr. Collins had for some years been a consistent member of the Antioch Christian Church.

He was born in Fentress county Tenn. and was 52 years of age at the time of his death. He was married several years ago to the widow of the late Reuben Kinder, who survives him, together with one brother who lives in Cincinnati, Ohio and a sister in Tenn.

Mr. Collins was one of our most substantial citizens, and those who knew him speak in the highest terms of his many sterling qualities. While he had no children of his own he was deeply attached to Willie Kinder, his step-son, and the attachment was mutual, the young man mourning his loss almost as own father. A kindly man, industrious, attending strictly to his own affairs, he held the unstinted respect to his neighbors and friends, and his loss is an irreparable one in the community in which he resided.

The Record joins the many friends in condolence with the stricken family.
